About your Homework Club Tutor

“My name is Shaun Pollard. I am a qualified science teacher, with a background of working with children and young people of varying ages and abilities, particularly those who need additional support to engage with the education system. I believe that learning should be fun, interactive and rewarding for the young person and also for those involved in teaching them. Parents are an important part of this learning experience. The Homework Club brings together these elements to create a positive environment for children and young people to learn.

The Homework club will tailor learning to the individual needs of the child. We will be using technology, practical activities, diagrams and memory techniques to support the learning experience. We will do science experiments, build and engineer equipment and look at creative ways to improve understanding. For the older ones we will look at how to revise and prepare for the exams.

For those who need support to improve their literacy and numeracy we will have many creative tools to support you, and for those who are just needing help with a project or particular piece of homework, bring it along so we can make it work for you!”
